INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors and Stockholders

Fortune Information Systems Corp.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Fortune Information Systems Corporation and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Group”), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, consolidated statements of changes in equity and consolidated statements of cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission (FSC) of the Republic of China (ROC).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the ROC, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The descriptions of the key audit matters of the 2024 consolidated financial statements are as follows:

Revenue recognition of service income based on the percentage-of-completion method

The revenue generated by the Group from providing services under contracts includes sales revenue and service income recognized using the percentage-of-completion method. The service income recognized using the percentage-of-completion method is calculated based on the degree of completion of the contract, which is measured by the ratio of costs incurred to total estimated costs. Since the estimated total costs are determined by management's judgment based on the nature of the contracts, as well as internal and external relevant information, this could have a significant impact on the accuracy of revenue recognition. Therefore, the recognition of the aforementioned revenue has been considered a key audit matter.

We designed our audit procedures to address the above key audit matter, including understanding and evaluating the processes related to the accuracy of revenue recognition under the percentage-of-completion method; performing detailed testing of uncompleted contracts at the period-end to verify the accuracy of costs incurred; and reviewing whether there are significant adjustments to the estimated total costs and degree of completion of contracts after the reporting period.

Other Matter

We have also audited The Group only financial statements of Fortune Information Systems Corporation as of and for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 on which we have issued an unmodified opinion and an unqualified opinion with an emphasis of matter, respectively.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Financial Statements Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and IFRS, IAS, IFRIC, and SIC endorsed and issued into effect by the FSC of the ROC, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease its operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including the audit committee) are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the ROC, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists and is related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Cai, You-Ling and Lin, Wen-Qin

The Group shall disaggregate items with dissimilar characteristics in the primary financial statements and in the notes. The Group labels items as ‘other’ only if it cannot find a more informative label.

- Disclosures on Management-defined Performance Measures (MPMs): When in public communications outside financial statements and communicating to users of financial statements management's view of an aspect of the financial performance of the Group as a whole, the Group shall disclose related information about its MPMs in a single note to the financial statements, including the description of such measures, calculations, reconciliations to the subtotal or total specified by IFRS Accounting Standards and the income tax and non-controlling interests effects of related reconciliation items.

Except for the above impact, as of the date the consolidated financial statements were authorized for issue, the Group is continuously assessing the possible impact of the application of other standards and interpretations on the Group's financial position and financial performance and will disclose the relevant impact when the assessment is completed.

4. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION

a. Statement of Compliance

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and IFRS Accounting Standards as endorsed and issued into effect by the FSC.

b. Basis of Preparation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis except for financial instruments measured at fair value and net defined benefit liabilities (assets) which are measured at the present value of the defined benefit obligation less the fair value of plan assets.

The fair value measurements, which are grouped into Levels 1 to 3 based on the degree to which the fair value measurement inputs are observable and based on the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, are described as follows:

- (1) Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- (2) Level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and
- (3) Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

c. Current and Non-current Assets and Liabilities

Current assets include:

- (1) Assets held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- (2) Assets expected to be realized within 12 months after the reporting period;
and
- (3) Cash and cash equivalents unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least one operating cycle after the reporting period.

Current liabilities include:

- (1) Liabilities held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- (2) Liabilities due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period;
and
- (3) It does not have substantive rights to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets and liabilities are classified as non-current.

d. Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and the entities controlled by the Company (the subsidiaries). Income and expenses of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the period are included in the consolidated statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the effective date of acquisition up to the effective dates of disposal, as appropriate. When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with those used by the Company. All intra-group transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full upon consolidation.

Please refer to Note 11 and Table 4 for the subsidiaries' name, percentage of shares owned by the Company and main businesses.

e. Business combination under common control

The merged company applies the book value method to account for a reorganization under common control.

f. Foreign Currencies

When an entity prepares its financial statements, transactions denominated in currencies other than the entity's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recorded by translating the foreign currency amounts into the functional currency using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

Foreign currency monetary items are translated using the closing exchange rate at each balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising from the settlement of monetary items or from the translation of monetary items at exchange rates different from those at which they were initially recorded are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Foreign currency non-monetary items measured at fair value are translated using the exchange rate at the date when the fair value is determined. Exchange differences arising from such translation are recognized in profit or loss for the period. However, if the changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income, the related exchange differences are also recognized in other comprehensive income.

Foreign currency non-monetary items measured at historical cost are translated using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction and are not retranslated subsequently.

When preparing consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of foreign operations (including subsidiaries whose functional currency is different from that of the parent company) are translated into New Taiwan Dollars using the exchange rate at each balance sheet date. Revenues and expenses are translated using the average exchange rate for the period, and the resulting exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income.

If the group company disposes of its entire interest in a foreign operation, the cumulative exchange differences related to that foreign operation are reclassified to profit or loss.

g. Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Inventories are assessed item by item, except those with similar characteristics which are assessed collectively. Net realizable value refers to the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The weighted-average method is used in the calculation of cost.

h. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are recognized at cost and subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Owned land is not depreciated.

Except for certain equipment, air conditioning systems, and renovation projects which are depreciated using the declining balance method, the Group depreciates all other assets on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, with each significant component depreciated separately. The Group reviews the estimated useful lives, residual values, and depreciation methods at least at each financial year-end, and applies any changes in accounting estimates prospectively.

Upon derecognition of property, plant and equipment, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in profit or loss.

i. Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rental income, for capital appreciation, or both. Investment properties also include land held currently with an undetermined future use.

Owned investment properties are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs, and subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. The Group depreciates buildings and structures using the straight-line method, while other components continue to be depreciated using the declining balance method.

Property classified under property, plant and equipment is reclassified as investment property when it ceases to be owner-occupied, using the carrying amount at the date of change in use.

Upon derecognition of an investment property, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in profit or loss.

j. Intangible Assets

Separately acquired intangible assets with finite useful lives are initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. These intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The Group reviews the estimated useful lives, residual values, and amortization methods at least at the end of each financial reporting period, and applies the effects of any changes in accounting estimates prospectively.

Upon derecognition of an intangible asset, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized in profit or loss.

k. Impairment of property, plant and equipment, investment properties, right-of-use assets, and intangible assets

At each balance sheet date, the Group assesses whether there is any indication that property, plant and equipment, investment properties, right-of-use assets, and intangible assets may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated. If it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group determines the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs. Shared assets are allocated to the smallest group of CGUs on a reasonable and consistent basis.

The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. If the recoverable amount of an individual asset or a cash-generating unit (CGU) is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount, and an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss.

Inventory, property, plant and equipment, and intangible assets recognized under customer contracts are first assessed for impairment in accordance with the impairment provisions for inventory and the policies outlined above. Subsequently, if the carrying amount of contract cost assets exceeds the remaining amount of consideration expected to be received for the related goods or services, less the directly related costs, the excess is recognized as an impairment loss. The carrying amount of contract cost assets is then included in the cash-generating unit (CGU) to conduct the impairment assessment for the CGU.

If an impairment loss is subsequently reversed, the carrying amount of the asset, cash-generating unit (CGU), or contract cost asset is increased to its revised recoverable amount. However, the increased carrying amount shall not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized in prior years, after adjusting for amortization or depreciation. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss.

l. Non-current Assets Held for Sale

The book value of non-current assets classified as held for sale is expected to be recovered primarily through sale. Being classified as held for sale, the assets should be available for immediate sale. Being available for immediate sale means the management is committed to a planned sale and the sale is highly probable within 12 months.

Assets classified as non-current assets held for sale are measured at the lower of the carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell, and should not be depreciated.

m. Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the consolidated balance sheets when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition.

1) Financial assets

The Group adopts trade-date accounting to recognize and derecognize financial assets.

a) Measurement category

Financial assets are classified into the following categories: Financial assets at amortized cost, and debt instrument investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI).

i. Financial assets at amortized cost

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortized cost:

i) The financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and

ii) The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Subsequent to initial recognition, financial assets at amortized cost, including cash and cash equivalents, Time deposits with original maturities of more than three months, notes and accounts receivable(including non-current), other receivables, refundable deposits, are measured at amortized cost, which equal to gross carrying amount determined by the effective interest method less any impairment loss. Exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss.

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortized cost of the financial asset.

Cash equivalents include time deposits with original maturities within 3 months from the date of acquisition, which are highly liquid, readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These cash equivalents are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments.

ii Debt instrument investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)

- i) The financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- ii) The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instrument investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI) are measured at fair value. Changes in the carrying amount that relate to interest income calculated using the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains or losses, and impairment losses or reversals are recognized in profit or loss. Other changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income and are reclassified to profit or loss upon disposal of the investment.

b) Impairment of financial assets and contract assets

The Group recognizes a loss allowance for expected credit losses (ECLs) on financial assets at amortized cost (including notes and accounts receivables), Debt instrument investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI), contract assets.

The loss allowances for notes and accounts receivables, contract assets are measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs. For other financial assets, when the credit risk on the financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, a loss allowance is recognized at an amount equal to 12-month ECLs. If, on the other hand, there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is recognized at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs.

ECLs reflect the weighted average of credit losses with the respective risks of a default occurring as the weights. Lifetime ECLs represent the expected credit losses that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECLs represent the portion of lifetime ECLs that is expected to result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

For the purpose of internal credit risk management, and without considering any collateral held, the Group considers a financial asset to be in default when any of the following conditions are met:

- i. Internal or external information indicates that the debtor is unlikely to repay its obligations in full.

- ii. The financial asset is more than one year past due, unless there is reasonable and supportable information demonstrating that a longer default criterion is more appropriate.

Impairment losses on all financial assets are recognized by reducing the carrying amount through an allowance account, except for debt instrument investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI), for which the allowance is recognized in other comprehensive income and does not reduce the carrying amount of the asset.

c) Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognizes financial assets only when the contractual rights of the cash flows from the asset expire or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party.

On derecognition of a financial asset at amortized cost in its entirety, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognized in profit or loss. On derecognition of a debt instrument investment measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI), the difference between its carrying amount and the total of the consideration received and any cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income is recognized in profit or loss.

2) Equity instruments

Equity instruments issued by the Group are classified as equity based on the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of an equity instrument.

Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognized at the amount of consideration received, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

3) Financial liabilities

a) Recognition

All financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost calculated using the effective interest method.

b) Derecognition of financial liabilities

The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid is recognized in profit or loss.

n. Provisions

Provisions are recognized based on the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Provisions are measured at the present value of the estimated cash flows required to settle the obligation.

Warranty obligations under sales contracts are recognized at the time the related revenue is recognized, based on management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the Group's obligations.

o. Revenue Recognition

After identifying the performance obligations in a customer contract, the Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation and recognizes revenue when the performance obligation is satisfied.

1) Revenue from sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is derived from the sales of software, hardware, and electronic equipment products. Revenue and contract assets are recognized at the point in time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer, which occurs upon shipment, as the customer has agreed-upon pricing and rights to use the goods, bears the primary responsibility for resale, and assumes the risk of obsolescence. Contract assets are subsequently reclassified as trade receivables when the remaining performance obligations are fulfilled. Advance payments for product sales are recognized as contract liabilities until the products are delivered.

2) Revenue from the provision of services

Service revenue is derived from software and hardware system integration services and maintenance services.

As the Group performs the services, the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits of the performance, and therefore, the related revenue is recognized over time as the services are provided. Since the contract stipulates that payment is made upon customer acceptance, the Group recognizes a contract asset during service performance, which is reclassified as a trade receivable upon completion of acceptance.

p. Leases

At inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease.

1) The Group as lessor

Leases in which the lessee assumes substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Under operating leases, lease payments, net of lease incentives, are recognized as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

2) The Group as lessee

The Group recognizes right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for all leases at the commencement date of a lease, except for short-term leases and low-value asset leases accounted for applying a recognition exemption where lease payments are recognized as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Right-of-use assets are initially measured at cost, which includes the initial amount of the lease liability. Subsequently, they are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation. Right-of-use assets are presented separately in the consolidated balance sheet.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis from the commencement date of the lease to the earlier of the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term.

Lease liabilities are initially measured at the present value of lease payments, including fixed payments. If the interest rate implicit in the lease is readily determinable, lease payments are discounted using that rate. If not, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate is used.

Subsequently, lease liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, and interest expense is allocated over the lease term. If changes in the lease term or in an index or rate used to determine lease payments result in a change in future lease payments, the Group remeasures the lease liability and adjusts the right-of-use asset accordingly. However, if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero, any remaining remeasurement amount is recognized in profit or loss. Lease liabilities are presented separately in the consolidated balance sheet.

q. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

r. Government Grants

Government grants are not recognized until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attached to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants related to income are recognized in other income on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognizes as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate.

s. Employee Benefits

1) Short-term employee benefits

Liabilities recognized in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related services.

2) Post-employment benefits

Obligations for contributions to defined contribution pension plans are recognized as an expense in profit or loss in the periods during which services are rendered by employees.

The defined benefit costs (including service cost, net interest, and remeasurement) of defined benefit plan use the projected unit credit method for the actuarial valuation. Service cost (including current service cost) and net interest on the net defined benefit liability (asset) are recognized under employee benefit expense as they occur. Remeasurement (including actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets, excluding amounts included in net interest) is recognized in other comprehensive income (loss) in retained earnings as it occurs, and is not reclassified to profit or loss subsequently.

Net defined benefit asset is the surplus of the contributions in a defined benefit retirement plan. The net defined benefit asset shall not exceed the present value of any future refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions.

t. Income Tax

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

1) Current taxes

Income tax payable (refundable) is based on taxable profit (loss) for the year determined in accordance with the applicable tax laws of each tax jurisdiction.

An additional surtax on undistributed earnings, computed in accordance with the Income Tax Act of the ROC, is recognized in current taxes in the year of approval by a stockholders' meeting resolution.

Adjustments to income tax payable for prior years are included in current income tax.

2) Deferred taxes

Deferred income tax is calculated based on the temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and their tax bases used in the computation of taxable income.

Deferred income tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences, whereas deferred income tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries, except to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred income tax assets related to such investments are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to utilize the temporary differences and that the temporary differences are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow the asset to be recovered in whole or in part. Previously unrecognized deferred income tax assets are also reviewed at each balance sheet date and recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the assets can be utilized.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the liability is settled or the asset is realized, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. The measurement of deferred income tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the balance sheet date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

3) Current and deferred income tax

Current and deferred income tax is recognized in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In such cases, the current and deferred income tax is recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

5. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

When adopting accounting policies, the management of the Group must make judgments, estimates, and assumptions based on historical experience and other relevant factors for information that is not readily available from other sources. The resulting accounting estimates and assumptions might be different from the actual results.

When the Group is developing significant accounting estimates, it incorporates the potential impact into considerations for significant estimates related to cash flow projections, growth rates, discount rates, profitability, and other relevant factors. The management will continuously review estimates and underlying assumptions.

The average credit period of receivable was 60 to 120 days. In order to mitigate credit risk, the management of the Group has delegated a team responsible for determining credit limits, credit approvals and other monitoring procedures to ensure the recoverability of receivables. In addition, the Group reviews the recoverable amount of trade receivables at balance sheet dates to ensure that adequate allowance is provided for possible irrecoverable amounts. In this regard, the management believes the Group's credit risk could be reasonably reduced.

The Group provides for expected credit losses which permits the use of lifetime expected loss provision for all receivable. The expected credit losses on receivable are estimated using a provision matrix by reference to the past default experience of the debtor, the debtor's current financial position, economic condition of the industry in which the debtor operates, as well as the GDP forecasts and industry outlook. According to loss patterns for different customer segment, the provision of loss allowance is based on past due status.

The Group writes off a trade receivable when there are evidences indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and the trade receivable is considered uncollectible. For trade receivables that have been written off, the Group continues to engage in enforcement activity to attempt to recover the receivables due. Where recoveries are made, these are recognized in profit or loss.

The following table details the loss allowance of notes and receivables based on the Group's provision matrix.

December 31, 2024

The Group plans to sell real estate located in Hong Kong, and is currently actively seeking buyers. Since the expected selling price is anticipated to exceed the book value of the related assets, no impairment loss has been recognized when classifying these assets as held for sale non-current assets.

17. RETIREMENT BENEFIT PLANS

a. Defined contribution plans

The pension scheme applicable to the Group and its domestic subsidiaries under the consolidated entity, in accordance with the Labor Pension Act, is a government-managed defined contribution plan. Contributions equal to 6% of employees' monthly wages are made to individual pension accounts at the Bureau of Labor Insurance.

Employees of the consolidated entity's subsidiary in Hong Kong are members of a government-operated retirement benefit plan. The subsidiary is required to contribute a specified percentage of salary costs to the plan to fund the retirement benefits. The consolidated entity's obligation under this government-operated plan is limited to making the specified contributions.

b. Defined benefit plans

The pension plan adopted by the Group under the consolidated entity, in accordance with the Labor Standards Act of the Republic of China (Taiwan), is a government-managed defined benefit plan. Retirement benefits are calculated based on the employees' years of service and the average monthly salary over the six months prior to the approved retirement date. The Company contributes 2% of total monthly wages to a dedicated account with the Bank of Taiwan, in the name of the Labor Retirement Reserve Supervisory Committee. Before the end of each fiscal year, if the account balance is estimated to be insufficient to cover the pension payments for employees expected to meet retirement criteria in the following year, the Company is required to make a supplementary contribution for the shortfall by the end of March of the following year. The dedicated account is managed by the Bureau of Labor Funds, Ministry of Labor, and the Group does not have the right to influence the investment strategy.

The amounts recognized in the consolidated balance sheet in respect of the defined benefit plan are as follows:

	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023

The consolidated entity is exposed to the following risks under the pension scheme governed by the Labor Standards Act:

- 1) Investment Risk: The Bureau of Labor Funds, Ministry of Labor, manages the labor retirement fund through both direct management and outsourcing, investing the fund in domestic (and foreign) equity securities, debt securities, and bank deposits, among other assets. However, the return on the consolidated entity's plan assets is calculated based on an amount not lower than the interest rate of a 2-year fixed deposit at a local bank.
- 2) Interest Rate Risk: A decrease in the interest rate on government bonds would increase the present value of the defined benefit obligation. However, the return on the debt investments within the plan assets would also increase, partially offsetting the impact on the net defined benefit asset.

3) Salary Risk: The calculation of the present value of the defined benefit obligation is based on the future salaries of plan members. Therefore, an increase in the salaries of plan members will result in an increase in the present value of the defined benefit obligation.

The present value of the Group's defined benefit obligation is actuarially determined by a qualified actuary. The significant assumptions as of the measurement date are as follows:

	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023
Discount rate	1.50%	1.25%
Expected salary growth rate	3.00%	3.00%

If the significant actuarial assumptions were to change by a reasonable possible amount, with all other assumptions held constant, the effect on the present value of the defined benefit obligation would be as follows:

	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023
Discount rate
Increase 0.25%	($ 317)	($ 403)
Decrease 0.25%	$ 326	$ 416
Expected salary growth rate
Increase 0.25%	$ 316	$ 402
Decrease 0.25%	($ 309)	($ 392)

Since actuarial assumptions may be interrelated, the likelihood of a change in a single assumption alone is low. Therefore, the sensitivity analysis above may not fully reflect the actual changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation.

	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023

The Group is not subject to any other external capital requirements.

24. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

a. Fair value of financial instruments not measured at fair value

The management of the Company considers that the carrying amount of financial assets and financial liabilities, which are not measured at fair value, is close to their fair value.

b. Category of financial instruments

	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023
Financial assets
Amortized cost (Note 1)	$ 1,084,381	$ 836,897

Note 2: The balance includes financial liabilities measured at amortized cost which comprise short-term loans and bills payables, note payables, accounts payables, other payables and guarantee deposits.

c. Financial risk management objectives and policies

The main financial instruments of the Group include debt instrument investments, notes and account receivables, account payables, loans, and lease liabilities. The financial management department of the Group provides services for the business units, coordinates the operation of the domestic financial market, and supervises and manages financial risks related to the operation of the Group by analyzing the internal risk reports of the risks according to the level and scope of risks. Such risks include market risk (foreign exchange risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

(1) Market risk

The Group's activities exposed it primarily to the financial risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates.

(a) Foreign currency risk

The Group had foreign financial instrument investments, which exposed the Group to exchange rate risk.

The carrying amounts of the Group's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities of non-functional currency calculated (including those eliminated on consolidation) at the end of the reporting period are set out in Note 28.

Sensitivity analysis

The Group was mainly exposed to USD and RMB fluctuations.

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% increase and decrease in New Taiwan dollars and the Hong Kong dollars (the functional currency) against the relevant foreign currencies 5% is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis included only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items, and adjusts their translation at the end of the reporting period for a 5% change in foreign currency rates. The sensitivity analysis related to foreign currency exchange rate risk mainly focuses on the calculation of foreign currency monetary items as of the reporting period end date.

	USD Impact		RMB Impact
	For the Year Ended December 31
	2024	2023	2024	2023
Profit or loss	$ 80	$ 226	$ 80	$ 65

(b) Interest rate risk

The Group was exposed to interest rate risk because entities in the Group borrowed funds at both fixed and floating interest rates. The risk is managed by the Group by maintaining an appropriate mix of fixed and floating rate borrowings. The Group regularly assesses its hedging activities to ensure they align with interest rate views and established risk preferences, in order to ensure the use of the most cost-effective hedging strategies.

The carrying amount of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities with exposure to interest rate risk at the end of the reporting period were as follows:

	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023
Fair value interest rate risk
– Financial assets	$ 304,466	$ 279,697
– Financial liabilities	20,931	93,176
Cash flow interest rate risk
– Financial assets	53,518	43,603

Sensitivity analysis

If interest rates had been 5% higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's pre-tax profit for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 would decrease/increase by $2,676 thousands and $2,180 thousands, respectively.

(2) Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in a financial loss to the Group. As at the end of the reporting years, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk, which would cause a financial loss to the Group due to failure of counterparties to discharge an obligation and financial guarantees provided by the Group could arise from:

- (a) The carrying amount of the respective recognized financial assets as stated in the consolidated balance sheets
- (b) The amount of contingent liabilities in relation to financial guarantees issued by the Group.

The policy that the Group adopts is to only make transactions with reputable targets, and the Group will obtain full collateral when necessary so as to reduce the risk of financial loss owing to delinquency. The Group only transacts with entities that are rated the equivalent of investment grade and above. This information is supplied by independent rating agencies where available and, if not available, the Group uses other publicly available financial information and its own trading records to rate its major customers. The Group's exposure and the credit ratings of its counterparties are continuously monitored and the aggregate value of transactions concluded is spread amongst approved counterparties. Credit exposure is controlled by counterparty limits that are reviewed and approved by the risk management specialists annually.

To lower the credit risk, management of the merged company appoints a specific team to handle decisions on credit limits, credit approval and other monitoring procedures to ensure that appropriate actions are taken to recover overdue receivables. In addition, the Group would review the recoverable amount of each receivables on the consolidated balance sheet dates to ensure that impairment loss is recognized for unrecoverable receivables. As a result, the Group's management concludes that the credit risk of the Group is significantly reduced.

The Group continuously evaluates the financial condition of accounts receivable customers and will purchase credit insurance contracts if necessary.

The Group does not hold any collateral or other credit enhancement instruments to mitigate credit risk of financial assets.

(3) Liquidity risk

The Group manages liquidity risk by monitoring and maintaining a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. In addition, management monitors the utilization of bank borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Group had available unutilized bank loan facilities set out in (b) below.

a. Liquidity and interest rate risk tables for non-derivative financial liabilities

The remaining contractual maturity analysis of non-derivative financial liabilities was based on the earliest date at which the Group might be required to repay and was compiled based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities (including principal and estimated interest). Therefore, the maturity analysis of non-derivative financial liabilities was compiled in accordance with the agreed repayment date.
